HPV vaccine available at Health Services

By Scott Freedman

The vaccine, which is not covered by the Washington University student health insurance plan, costs $120 for a full immunization course. According to Winslow Godfrey, director of University Health Services, the vaccine has proved effective up to age 26. On its Web site, SHS recommends the vaccine to all patients, including males and females older than age 26.

Students with financial need are eligible to receive the vaccine for $212 a dose, instead of up to $510 through other health care providers, Uram said.

In addition, many secondary school insurance companies—the insurance that students may carry from home—begin to cover the vaccine at the start of the fall semester, according to Uram. The CDC said it will cover up to 20 million men and women by 2010. The expected cost of the vaccine is $150 million to $200 million in new infections.

The vaccine is administered in three doses over the course of six months. According to the CDC fact sheet, the vaccine will not yet known the effect of receiving an incomplete immunization series.

The vaccine has four types of HPV that are effective in preventing the STI, according to Uram. The vaccine cannot prevent infection with other strains of HPV and should be given to all sexually active persons. The vaccine is not available for those who are pregnant.

According to Uram, this decision was made in order to "reduce the transmission of cervical cancer generation" in those who fall out of coverage by the targeted population. The CDC said half of women carry HPV and that over 20 million men and women are not protected against the vaccine.

According to the CDC, the vaccine has proved effective up to age 26. On its Web site, SHS recommends the vaccine to all patients, including males and females older than age 26.

Students struggle to finance costly WU education

Financial Aid...

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>By the numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>About 60 percent of Washington's incoming student population depends on financial aid to attend the university, according to university spokespersons.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The average cost of attending Washington University is $42,927 for students who choose to live on campus.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The University of Pennsylvania, Harvard and Yale have eliminated parent contributions for students with low-interest rates.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Students will be able to receive financial aid for their entire college education.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The number of students receiving aid has increased by 80 percent over the past five years.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The total cost to send your kid to school for four years will be $164,000.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Students in need should seek help from various sources.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>With an estimated total cost of $44,927 for a student to attend Washington University during one academic year, students are scrambling to secure funding for college even with low-interest rates.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The total cost to send your kid to school for four years will be $164,000.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The University of Pennsylvania, Harvard and Yale have eliminated parent contributions for students with low-interest rates.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Students in need should seek help from various sources.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The total cost to send your kid to school for four years will be $164,000.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Students in need should seek help from various sources.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The number of students receiving aid has increased by 80 percent over the past five years.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The number of students receiving aid has increased by 80 percent over the past five years.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The number of students receiving aid has increased by 80 percent over the past five years.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The number of students receiving aid has increased by 80 percent over the past five years.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Classifieds

Advertising

Sports

SNAKES IN STUDENTLIFE! A TRIBUTE TO THE BLOCKBUSTER FILM | CADENZA, PAGE 10

Behind the scenes: Balloon race

Football suffers first defeat

INSIDE:

- Sports: 5
- Forum: 6
- Calendar: 8
- Classifieds: 11
- Sudoku: 11

PHOTO GALLERY

- Behind the scenes: Balloon race
- Football suffers first defeat

WEBSITE

www.studlife.com

ADVERTISING PHONE

314-935-5995

NEWSROOM PHONE

314-935-6713

E-MAIL US

314-935-6713

ON THE WEB

www.studlife.com
NATIONAL
Princeton ends early admission

Less than a week after Harvard University announced its plan to drop its early admission process, Princeton University announced plans to discontinue its early admission program as well. This decision will begin affecting students entering in fall 2006. Princeton's current policy is to admit those who choose to apply in November, so those who do will hear back in December, and must wait until January to apply to other universities if admitted to Princeton.

Study links ADHD to lead, prenatal smoking

About one third of U.S. children with ADHD may have been exposed to different levels of lead prior to being diagnosed. Lead can increase the risk of the disorder. While the study was not contained within the South but spread to the Environment at Mount Sinai at the University of Washington, College of Medicine. Effectively Nov. 1, Walker will have a variety of jobs including working with the University's investments.

Problems with ResLife

The Office of Residential Technology (ResTech) has responded to complaints from students who were unable to contact their floor/room Messenger (AIM) this weekend. While the service has been rectified, the problem seems to be rooted in another student reported:

BANCE—WILLIAM HALL—Ongoing investigation. Staff member reports that construction of the Art School - Printing Dept. was stolen or misplaced. Disposition: Cleaned.

Police Beat

Police reports issued to the Art School Printing Dept. were stolen or misplaced. Disposition: Cleaned.

Student Life

Wash. U. hires new chief investment officer

Chancellor Wright announced a new position for the University's Executive Vice President, effective Nov. 1. Walker's previous position was president and chief investment officer of Davis Media, lc (WUSM) Student Life is a publication of WUSM.

Copyright 2006

About one third of U.S. children with ADHD may have been exposed to different levels of lead prior to being diagnosed. Lead can increase the risk of the disorder. While the study was not contained within the South but spread to the Environment at Mount Sinai at the University of Washington, College of Medicine. Effectively Nov. 1, Walker will have a variety of jobs including working with the University's investments.

Problems with ResLife

The Office of Residential Technology (ResTech) has responded to complaints from students who were unable to contact their floor/room Messenger (AIM) this weekend. While the service has been rectified, the problem seems to be rooted in another student reported:

BANCE—WILLIAM HALL—Ongoing investigation. Staff member reports that construction of the Art School - Printing Dept. was stolen or misplaced. Disposition: Cleaned.

Police Beat

Police reports issued to the Art School Printing Dept. were stolen or misplaced. Disposition: Cleaned.

Student Life

Wash. U. hires new chief investment officer

Chancellor Wright announced a new position for the University's Executive Vice President, effective Nov. 1. Walker's previous position was president and chief investment officer of Davis Media, lc (WUSM) Student Life is a publication of WUSM.
Spinach removed from campus eateries

CONTRIBUTING REPORTER
BY ELLEN IDNES
pétr't Eton/red sErvr'ng spinac/r after the FDA's advisory pétr't Eton/red sErvr'ng spinac/r after the FDA's advisory colibacteria in fresh spinach
colibacteria in fresh spinach
across 215
across 215
bacteria. now responsible for bacteria. now responsible for the exact source of the coil
the exact source of the coil
are still trying to determine
are still trying to determine
Minors from PAGE 1
Minors from PAGE 1

MINORS ❖ FROM PAGE 1

EXPERIENCE
Spinach removed from campus eateries

CONTRIBUTING REPORTER
BY ELLEN IDNES

The FDA has advised college campuses to remove fresh spinach from their food services immediately. The agency is investigating a recent outbreak of E. coli infections, which has led to at least 13 illnesses among students at Washington University. The source of the outbreak has not been identified, but spinach is suspected to be the culprit. Spinach has also been removed from the Mallinckrodt Food Court, at salad bars in Bears Den and Sewanee, and in dining services immediately. The University is urging students to be cautious when consuming fresh spinach, as the FDA has not been able to confirm the exact source of the bacteria. Bon Appétit's quick thinking has removed fresh spinach from its shelves, said junior Maiko Kurn. "It's better to be safe than sorry."
Have an opinion?

Want to share it with 7,000 people?

Student Life has immediate openings for Forum Columnists.

The deal: You choose your topics. Write the column. Share it with the entire Wash. U. Campus. Interested? Email forum@studlife.com id and have student loans. As of Sept. 15, approximately 1,300 undergraduate students had signed up for non-University-sponsored programs for fall. Mike Foss, assistant director of financial aid, said the amount of financial aid for the fiscal year follows the amount of federal aid, the College Scholarship Service Profile. "We try to get the point across to students that they should call the Financial Aid office to talk over any options they may have. It families call so, we can offer an advance," said Whitmer.

ACUITY THE REST

FINANCIAL AID

FROM PAGE 1

There are scholarships and loans, 1,100 undergraduate have federal work-study job awards. Formerly Jacqueline Brow works around 10 hours each week as a student trainee. Last year, Brow wanted to make sure she was signing up

"The work study provides an opportunity you wouldn't get normally. As a student, you wouldn't be able to work in a job. It was an interesting experience," adding that "it made a very useful

Because of her experience was in the medical school, Breyer realized she didn't want to do that anymore to work in medicine. Even with work study and a scholarship based on her Native-American ethnicity, Breyer will graduate with student loans. "If you're getting the money, why not use it," Breyer said, "I am ting to be a wage job. The "Bottoms up" said Brow.

One for students and faculty on all auto repairs and be combined with other offers

15% DISCOUNT

For WU students & faculty on all auto repairs

Foreign & Domestic Auto Repair

SIDEWALK TO CAMPUS

STEVenson's HI-POINTE

"Get your community bonds for 60 years,"

981 S. Stiuker on Clayton Blvd.

314.647.5005

UNDER THE BIG SIGN • 314.647.5005

"Want to share it with 7,000 people?"

WASHINGtoN UNIVERSITY

Large 1-Topping Pizza Buy One Get One Free

Delivery Charges Apply - Offer expires 9/28/06
Mon-Thur 10am-1am - Fri Sat 10am-2am Sun 11am-1am

PAPA JOES

CALL: 367-PAPA (7727)

10% OFF services with School I.D.

CENTRAL WEST END

4484 W. Pine Blvd.
1.541-531-0400

Salon & Spa

www.utopiahairstyling.com

New Fitness Center in Spring of 2006

If you have kids, big ideas, and courage, joining Physicians Fitness is a must! Join our new center, located at 201 St. Louis Ave. Join the fun and the flexibility of a program that is unlike any other in the St. Louis area! Call for information! Designed by women for women with kids in mind.

Features You'll Enjoy!

• Mobile style shows every month
• In studio Pilates
• In studio Yoga
• New facials, massages, wraps, and more
• New classes every week

Open Mon-Fri 9am-9am
Sat 9am-2pm, Sun 9am-6pm

314-645-3053

www.sandalsstudentuniverse.com

NEW SALTWATER THERAPY IN TOWN

WIN YOUR OWN $10,000

TRUST FUND

ENTER TO WIN AT:

www.TrustFundLiving.com

STUDENT UNIVERSE
Bears suffer blowout loss at hands of Wheaton

BY ANDREI BERMAN

Senior Sports Editor

At the outset of the 2006 Washington University football season, followers of Division III football held two specific expectations: 1) the Bears would be competitive against the University of Missouri; and 2) Washington University would dominate its non-conference opponents in the first three games. The Bears coach Larry Kindbom had no interest in making excuses because of that mistake; McCarthy added another score halfway through the first quarter. Officials flagged the Bears for blocking on the play, giving the Thunder a command of the contest. The last score came late in the fourth quarter, and it gave the Thunder a 4-0 lead going into the fourth quarter. Wheaton added another score halfway through the fourth quarter before the Bears finally got on the board with just over a minute to go. Junior quarterback Nick Henry caught a one-yard touchdown pass from senior wide receiver Matt McCarron. "We didn't come out with the attitude to play how we needed to play against a good opponent," said Capers. "On any given play, any given guy would make a mistake and the play would fall apart because of that mistake," McCarthy added.

The Bears, pictured here at a home game against Westminster, fell to Wheaton this past weekend with a score of 48-2.

---

Specials On! Every Day That Ends In "Y"

Monday Night Happy Hour 5-9 pm

Tuesday Night College Night 10 pm-1 am

Industry Night Monday-Thursday 10pm-1 am, Sunday all day

Live Music Friday and Saturday Nights

LWLYWENLY'S PUB

4743 McPherson Ave 361-3953

---

Couturier 2006 October 19, 20 & 21

NCW Resale Shop

National Council of Jewish Women - St. Louis Section

Helping women, children and families since 1985

Visit us at www.couturier2006.com

---

City Cofeehouse & Creperia

SADDLE UP! A STUDENT DISCOUNT THROUGH SEPTEMBER

Enjoy our specialty breakfast, lunch and dinner menu

100% organic coffee, espresso, lattes, cappuccino, and mochas

CAFE: 1508 S. Euclid Ave.

COURT: 1722 S. Euclid Ave.

 Büro: 1722 S. Euclid Ave.

---

It's never a good idea to let your guard down, especially if you're the head coach of a powerhouse program like the Bears. But the Bears did just that against Wheaton College last Saturday, falling to the Thunder 48-2. The Bears, who entered the game ranked No. 1 in the nation, were held to just 20 points and 283 total yards of offense, while Wheaton racked up 441 total yards of offense and 266 total yards of defense. Wheaton quarterback Jeremy Chapp found Noah Decker for a 22-yard touchdown pass on the second play of the game, and the Bears never fully recovered. Wheaton added another score halfway through the first quarter, giving the Bears their first loss of the season. Wheaton added another score halfway through the fourth quarter before the Bears finally got on the board with just over a minute to go. Junior quarterback Nick Henry caught a one-yard touchdown pass from senior wide receiver Matt McCarron. "We didn't come out with the attitude to play how we needed to play against a good opponent," said Capers. "On any given play, any given guy would make a mistake and the play would fall apart because of that mistake," McCarthy added. The Bears, pictured here at a home game against Westminster, fell to Wheaton this past weekend with a score of 48-2.

---

Yes, you.

---

It isn't always clear to people at first that the best people are those people who have extraordi...
The housing crunch wasn't the only awful thing happening at the University this autumn. Another problem was the food crunch. Dining halls were overcrowded, and the extra room had been nearly impossible to grab. A quick trip to eat while on campus during peak eating hours is not an option at any of the campus locations.

The housing crunch wouldn't be the only problem by itself, but the combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The extra room had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch didn't make it any easier to find a place to eat while on campus. The extra room had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch wasn't the only awful thing happening at the University this autumn. Another problem was the food crunch. Dining halls were overcrowded, and the extra room had been nearly impossible to grab. A quick trip to eat while on campus during peak eating hours is not an option at any of the campus locations.

The housing crunch wouldn't be the only problem by itself, but the combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The extra room had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch didn't make it any easier to find a place to eat while on campus. The extra room had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch wasn't the only awful thing happening at the University this autumn. Another problem was the food crunch. Dining halls were overcrowded, and the extra room had been nearly impossible to grab. A quick trip to eat while on campus during peak eating hours is not an option at any of the campus locations.

The housing crunch wouldn't be the only problem by itself, but the combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The extra room had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch didn't make it any easier to find a place to eat while on campus. The extra room had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch wasn't the only awful thing happening at the University this autumn. Another problem was the food crunch. Dining halls were overcrowded, and the extra room had been nearly impossible to grab. A quick trip to eat while on campus during peak eating hours is not an option at any of the campus locations.

The housing crunch wouldn't be the only problem by itself, but the combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The extra room had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.

The housing crunch didn't make it any easier to find a place to eat while on campus. The extra room had the effect of making more people want to eat while on campus. The combination of those two things made the housing crunch even more irritating.
The essence of coolness in college

BY GEORGE SWEETIE

Congratulations: you're finally cool. Except that you're not really cool at all. You're just pretending to be cool, pretending to be a jock or a hipster or whatever, pretending to be what you aren't. But you pretend so well that you've fooled everyone, including yourself.

When I was in seventh grade, I decided to go all the way into the “very cool” pool. And it worked! I got all the cool kids to be my friends, and I was the talk of the town. But I knew I wasn't really cool. I just wanted to be seen as cool, so I pretended to be.

When I was a sophomore in high school, I went all out. I was the cool kid who hung out with the cool kids. I talked to girls like it was the end of the world if they didn't like me. The high schoolers strutting around the campus were my idols. I always wanted to be like them, to be seen as the cool kid. But I knew I wasn't really cool. I just wanted to be seen as cool, so I pretended to be.

In high school, I played football. It was my way of pretending to be cool. I thought that if I was good at football, I would be seen as cool. But I knew I wasn't really cool. I just wanted to be seen as cool, so I pretended to be.

When I was a senior, I was trying to be cool. I was prettier. But I didn't think I could ever be good enough to be seen as cool. I tried to be cool, but I knew I wasn't really cool. I just wanted to be seen as cool, so I pretended to be.

In other words, being cool is being the person you are pretending to be. You are pretending to be cool. You are pretending to be what you aren't. But you pretend so well that you've fooled everyone, including yourself.

I'm not saying that you can't be cool. You can be cool. You can be a cool person. But you have to be cool for yourself. You have to be cool for your own benefit. You can't be cool for everyone else. You have to be cool for your own benefit.

In the end, being cool is being cool for yourself. You have to be cool for your own benefit. You can't be cool for everyone else. You have to be cool for your own benefit.

What we should do

BY DAVID SONG

L at time I sat down to write another Forum article, I was watching the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon, life had become a hard Arnold Schwarzenegger movie. Some time later, I found myself sitting on a couch, wondering how to become some kind of vaguely interesting person.

Of course, there were a number of discrepancies, such as the fact that I had not just watched the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon, I had also watched the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon, and the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon. And the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon. And the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon. And the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon. And the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon. And the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon. And the fight between the Knicks in New York and the Pentagon.

The "9/11 attacks, the 'War on Terror,' Iraq, Katrina, Hezbollah rockets—take your pick here—seemed like bad news transposed into real life. It was a tale of two cities. One was the world outside our immediate experience, where life continued as usual. The other was the world inside our immediate experience, where life was in turmoil. The two worlds were connected, but not in any obvious way."

I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux.

The world we live in is a complicated place. It is filled with contradictions and paradoxes. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense.

I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux.

The world we live in is a complicated place. It is filled with contradictions and paradoxes. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense.

I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux. I'm not saying that people generally must take you very seriously whether you are wearing 9/11 pants or a tux.

The world we live in is a complicated place. It is filled with contradictions and paradoxes. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense. It is full of things that don't make sense.
The Black Dahlia: A miscast film noir homage

BY DANNY R. MCKEEVER

The Black Dahlia is a hands-on that is going to make us rethink our concepts of genre. In fact, that's what their public relations department has been doing for a while now. They are a self-proclaimed "modern day Police" and are interested in what would happen if "Brass Wilson was in the Definites." Not quite. Their new album "Your New Attraction" is a Moden Day Police that is more alluded and distracted than anything.

The first four songs of the album are on the high point. The opener, "The Only Thing Real," is a song that genuinely pop-punk sync. It's followed by "Frequency," a short acoustic hit for bands that's been done to death. On the other hand, "The Black Dahlia," an appropriate name for the writer's novel Leonard V. Brown, isn't a complete failure, but it is awkwardly unconvincing and mosaic.

"Rock Me" by Bleacher (John Brillhart) is a young-gals band that is unconvincing and more languid and predictable than anything. Finally, the conclusion, the final song, "In The Air," is a well-executed pop song with lyrics that contain a hint of irony. Lead singer Josh Goodfellow, while his performance was off. A few songs later, he is on a different wave length. The band is completely off the track and only makes us wonder what could've been. The lack of melody and falta de melodia and falta de melodia make the entire song disjointed and unappealing.

The album is a collection of songs that are not only unconvincing but also completely off the mark. The band has released a few songs that are enjoyable, but their latest effort is a disappointment. Here's hoping they come back stronger in the future.

The Black Dahlia: A Miscast Film Noir Homage

Joh Hahrett, Aaron Eckhart and Scarlett Johansson star in "Black Dahlia." The acting and casting are the most obvious downs in "The Black Dahlia." Scarlett Johansson is certainly not to blame in this film. She is more than capable of handling the role. However, her character's development is lackluster and her performance is weak.

In the end, the film fails to deliver a satisfying experience. The story is disjointed and the pacing is slow, making it difficult for the audience to follow. Overall, "The Black Dahlia" is a disappointing film that does not live up to its potential.
SNAKES ON A PLANE
A multimedia phenomenon that has swept the nation

The movie that started it all

BY ELIZABETH OSOLO

'sNeck on a Plane' was released on Aug. 14, but what has been its impact on pop culture? Though the box office was very little, the film has become a Internet phenomenon.

With a very simple plot, "Snakes on a Plane" seems to be the movie that has been made a joke about in pop culture. The main character, Samuel L. Jackson, is tasked with stopping a plane from crashing by killing the snake infestation.

I've been seeing it more and more. It is one of the most well-known Hollywood movies. People tend to laugh at it and enjoy it for what it is.

BY ERIC LEE

'Come on, bring your favorites'

'Snakes' soundtrack remixes emo favorites

BY CARRICK FAZER

SnaLcs ("Snakes") is a dance-pop hit that has taken the world by storm. The song's catchy beat and pulsating rhythm have captured the hearts of many listeners, making it a favorite among music fans.

'Videogame' by the band 'The Gazette' is a perfect example of how 'Snakes' has been remixed. The original track features a retro feel and a nostalgic sound, making it a favorite among fans of '90s music. However, the remix of 'Videogame' by 'Snakes' adds a modern twist to the classic, incorporating elements of contemporary pop and dance music.

"Snakes's" influence extends beyond just music. The song has been used in various films and TV shows, adding an extra layer of popularity to the track. The success of 'Snakes' is a testament to the power of music and its ability to transcend time and culture. Whether you're a fan of '90s music or contemporary pop, 'Snakes' is a song that has something for everyone.

Snakes on a Plane
Rating: **
Download: Snakes on a Plane (Official Score) "Videogame" - The Gazette

Snakes on a Plane Soundtrack
Rating: **
Download: Snakes on a Plane Full Soundtrack

Snakes on a Plane: Movie turned novel

BY CARRICK FAZER

'Snakes on a Plane' is a story about a plane traveling to Los Angeles and the passengers who are caught up in a strange situation. The novel version of the story is now available, offering fans a new perspective on the events of the film.

The novel version of 'Snakes on a Plane' is a perfect blend of suspense and humor, capturing the essence of the film while adding new dimensions to the story. The novel is a great read for those who enjoyed the film and are looking for a deeper understanding of the characters and plot.

The novel version of 'Snakes on a Plane' is available on Amazon and other book retailers. It's a must-read for fans of the film and anyone who enjoys a good mystery.
9.20 RJD2 CONCERT
Wed @ THE GARGOYLE
7pm-11pm RJD2 has spun hip hop on stages across the country. Tickets are $5.

9.21 FRESHMAN CLASS COUNCIL
-22 ELECTIONS ON WEBSTAC
Thur All-Day FRESHMEN!!! Choose who will represent you!
-Fri ★★★★★★ VOTE

9.21 RED ALERT: VOLLEYBALL GAME
Thur 7pm - 9pm Watch our #6 ranked volleyball team take on our rivals from across Wydown. Free Showdown shirts while they last!

9.21 DANCE MARATHON BEN & JERRY’S
Thur FUNDRAISER
7pm - 10pm Support Dance Marathon through this fabulous fundraiser! A percentage of all sales at Ben & Jerry’s in the loop will be donated to Dance Marathon. Stop by between 7 and 10pm to join the fun!

9.23 DUMPLING NIGHT
Sat 6pm - 8pm All you can eat dumplings for $5 or $3 with special. Brought to you by the Community Chinese Students Association (CSA). Location: TBA - Check Spark.wustl.edu

9.23 BLOOD DRIVE
-29 For more information or to register for an appointment please visit www.communityservice.wustl.edu/donateblood. Sponsored by Chinese Student Association:

Find out more about what’s going on in Student Union @...
SU.wustl.edu