Getting Ready for the Career Fair

The Spring 2007 Job & Internship Career Fair will be held on Friday, February 2 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Athletic Complex. Take a few minutes now to prepare, so that you are ready to go this Friday.

Tip #1: Make Your Resume Shine
Employers will be evaluating your resume in mere seconds, as you stand in front of their booth at the fair. Whether you are looking for an internship or job, your resume should not only detail your experience, but also showcase professional skills that you have developed through these activities.

To get help with your resume, stop by a Career Center office during drop in hours, no appointment necessary!
- 157 Umbrath Hall: M-T, 12-8 p.m.
- 157 Umbrath Hall: W-F, 12-5 p.m.
- 204 Lopata Hall: T, Th, 1:30—5 p.m.

Tip #2: Map Out a Strategy.
Flip through the Career Fair Guide to learn more about the organizations that are coming to the fair. Pick three or four organizations that truly interest you; then, research the organizations thoroughly to find out more about what the organization does and what their opportunities might entail.

Where can you look for information? Here are a few places:
- eRecruiting, The Career Center’s on-line job and internship database, has company profiles on thousands of organizations. You can search for any company by typing its name surrounded by quotation marks (“Boeing”) or by typing a keyword from its name (Abercrombie). Click on the Employer’s name to learn more.
- Use Hoovers.com or LexisNexis to find recent information about the organization.

Tip #3: Prepare a Few Questions.
You’ll have a few minutes to talk with each recruiter you visit at the Career Fair. You’ll want to have a few questions in mind to ask them; this is about you getting to know them, too. Questions might include:
- What specific skills make a candidate stand out for this position?
- What might a day look like for someone in this position?

Tip #4: What Should I Bring?
You are going to have your hands full with information that organizations give you (plus all the free little toys), so it’s important to be organized. There will be a spot at the fair to stow your bag.
- Bring 10-15 clean copies of your resume, printed on quality resume paper.
- A clean folder or portfolio, with copies of your resume tucked neatly inside.
- Your 30-second Personal Commercial (See “Your 30—Second Commercial” Article)
- Energy!

What to Wear to the Career Fair

We're guessing that you'll spend at least a few minutes worrying about what to wear to the Career Fair. Above all, you want to look professional, neat and sharp. This is your chance to make a strong first impression that shows your enthusiasm and level of interest in an opportunity.

We strongly recommend that you wear a professional suit. A professional suit includes matching dress slacks and a blazer. It is best to wear a dark color such as black, grey or navy blue. Women can choose either a knee-length skirt or pants. You should wear a dress shirt or blouse that is conservative and has been neatly pressed. Here are a few dos and don'ts:

DO...
- Use makeup and jewelry sparingly.
- Make sure your hair appears neat and is away from your face.
- Women should wear heels that are clean and professional looking. We recommend wearing a low heel, as you'll be on your feet for a while! If you choose to wear hose, make sure they are free of runs.
- Men should wear dark socks with polished dress shoes. In terms of a tie, make sure it matches your shirt and is not too loud or crazy. We recommend a solid tie or one with a simple stripe.
- Break out the iron or go to the dry cleaners! Make sure your suit looks clean and is wrinkle free.

DON'T...
- Wear anything that is low cut.
- Wear heels that you would wear to a club.
- Wear flip flops or tennis shoes.
- Come dressed for a work out.
- Put on excessive perfume or cologne.

If you don't own a suit, don't start sweating. Not everyone will have access to a suit, especially if you are hearing this for the first time only two days before the fair. However, you are going to need a suit at some point in your college career, no matter your plans after graduation. Consider buying a suit now so that you can get the most use out of it over the next few years.

Here are a few tips for the suit-less:
- Go shopping - okay, so that was obvious. Don't forget places like the Scholarshop on Clayton Road or Marshalls/T.J. Maxx. Also check out factory outlet stores at St. Louis Mills Mall.
- Consider borrowing something from a friend.
- Find a blazer or sport coat and pair it with pants. Suits can often be more expensive than buying two pieces separately. Just make sure they match and look professional.
- If you cannot find a suit or blazer/pant combination, wear a dress shirt with a pair of dark dress slacks. Make sure to tuck in your shirt and wear a simple belt. Men should always wear a tie.
Working the Career Fair

So, you've managed to find an iron, put on your suit and read up on the more than 90 organizations coming to the Career Fair. But, once you get there, what do you do exactly?

Working a Career Fair is about making a connection with organizations that interest you. Career Fairs provide an opportunity that you rarely get when applying for internships or jobs – face time. You get at least a few minutes of time to tell the recruiter why they must hire you.

While we are certain that you know this, we always see this phenomenon at Career Fairs. Students show up and then spend 30 minutes or more sitting outside the fair or standing at the outskirts trying to avoid "them." We know that a Career Fair can be intimidating and overwhelming, but you didn't get all gussied up to sit on the sidelines. Plus, a Career Fair can be a long day for a recruiter; the people who get out there first and show some excitement are going to make the best impression. So, no more sitting outside – get in there and go at it.

You have a huge advantage with this Career Fair – you have the map and organization list two days ahead of time. Use that to your advantage. Find the three or four organizations that interest you the most and map out where their booths will be. Do some research to find out more about the organization and their openings. The better your game plan, the more comfortable you'll feel when you arrive at the fair.

We recommend going to an employer that is lower on your interest list first. This gives you a chance to get the butterflies out of your stomach before you approach your top choices. Treat this first visit like it is your top choice and give it all you've got. Start with your 30-Second Commercial, ask questions and listen to what the recruiter is telling you. Make sure you body language stays open and inviting – don't cross your arms or sway back and forth. Maintain good eye contact. Offer your resume if it seems appropriate and you are truly interested in the organization. Make sure to ask the recruiter for a business card.

See, that wasn't so hard. Now, start your game plan. Go around the fair in a methodical fashion, so you don't forget to talk with anyone. Make sure to visit your top choices, but also keep an open mind. Talk to anyone who sounds even a tiny bit interesting – you might find something that is perfect for you. Even if you decide it might not be for you, it is still good practice.

After the fair is over, go home and write a thank you note to every recruiter with whom you spoke. Thank them for their willingness to share information with you and reemphasize your enthusiasm for the position. We recommend hand writing a thank you note and mailing it; an email is a second option.

If you are still nervous, or not sure what to do when you get to the fair, stop by The Career Center table. Career Advisors will be staffing the table throughout the entire fair to help you manage your anxiety and make the most of your time. The Career Center table is table #49 (see the map on page 10-11).

Developing Your 30-Second Commercial

Whether you randomly meet someone in an elevator or are talking with a recruiter at the Career Fair, you need to start off with a smooth introduction. You may have heard of a 30-Second Commercial, Pitch, or Elevator Speech. All of these things allude to the way you introduce yourself to another person in a strong and assertive manner. Think of it this way - you have less than 30 seconds to grab someone's attention and explain why you are interested in talking with him/her. In a way, this is your answer to one of the most ambiguous interview questions you'll be asked - "Tell me about yourself."

Introducing Yourself at the Career Fair

When introducing yourself to a recruiter at the fair, you'll want to sound polished but natural and conversational. This is something you should practice with friends, or even in front of a mirror. It may seem a little dumb, but the more you practice, the less likely you will freeze up when you try it for real.

Make sure you cover the basics such as your name, year in school (i.e., I'm graduating this May) and major. Beyond that, you also want to show enthusiasm for that organization and the positions they have listed in this guide. Show off that you have done your homework about the organization and that you have made the connection between your own skill set and interests and what they are looking for in a new hire.

Keep in mind that at a Career Fair, the recruiter has some questions they'll want to ask every student they talk with. You may not get a chance to say your 30-second commercial in one breath, but keep it in the back of your mind and use it as your home base, so to speak. Come back to it in a pinch and use it as a jumping off point to talk about your interests and experience in more detail.

Here are a few samples:

Hi, my name is Kim Lee. I'm graduating this May with an English degree. I'm interested in working in nonprofit development and am really excited to hear more about your organization. I spent this past summer interning at XYZ Nonprofit and was able to hone my organizational and communication skills - two skills I know are important in this area. Can you tell me more about full-time opportunities with your company?

Hi, my name is Kim Lee. I'm a junior, majoring in economics. I'm interested in a summer internship with your company. I read that you are looking for interns to help with financial modeling and statistical analysis. That caught my attention - I've gotten just a taste for financial modeling and am extremely interested in growing my skills in this area. Can you tell me more about your summer internship program?

Hi, my name is Kim Lee. I'm a senior, majoring in history and organizational behavior. I'm looking for an opportunity that will allow me to use my creativity alongside a more strategic approach to solving problems. I've had internships in marketing and human resources, and I think opportunities with your organization sound challenging and exciting. I know you are looking for someone who is willing to relocate and I am excited by that challenge as well. Can you tell me more about your rotational program?

So, I went to the Career Fair... what next?

You went the Career Fair and you even managed to get over that stomach-turning nervousness enough to actually talk to some recruiters. And you thought black cats were the only thing to be afraid of on October the 13th. But, what should you do now?

The thing about Career Fairs, and really any networking opportunity, is that they can become a waste of energy if you don’t take it a step further. Sure, you had a great conversation with a recruiter at Company X, but they probably had great conversations with a number of students. You need to spend some time to make sure those connections go somewhere. How do you do that, you ask? Funny, we happen to have a few ideas right here....

Follow Up.

Sounds easy enough, but many students forget that meeting a recruiter just one time won’t get them too far. Shoot him/her an email, re-emphasizing your enthusiasm for the organization or a specific position. If they aren’t hiring at this exact moment, maybe ask if the recruiter has a younger employee who you can talk to about his/her experience. This gives you another foot in the door, so to speak.

Get Help.

This Career Fair was likely one of your first forays this semester into finding a job or internship. Don’t let it stop here. Call The Career Center today to schedule an advising appointment to meet with a Career Advisor.

A Career Advisor can help you download everything you learned at the Fair, look at your interests in general, and help you come up with some concrete steps to move your job/internship/graduate school search along. We have appointments every day of the week – and even as late as 7 p.m. on Mondays and Tuesdays.

Brush up Your Interviewing Skills.

Hopefully, the Career Fair will have given you some leads and you’ll be interviewing really soon. This means that you should brush up your interviewing skills. We have several ways for you to do this:

Internship Prep Series or Senior Prep Series: Internship Prep Series (IPS) is for any student who is/will be looking for an internship for the summer. This program has two-steps – one of them being to attend an interviewing workshop. Senior Prep Series is for anyone graduating in December or May who will be looking for a job. This program is also two-steps and focuses on search techniques and gives you hands-on interviewing practice. Once you complete either Prep Series, you’ll be able to participate in on-campus interviews and resume drops (where we send your resume directly to the recruiter) for opportunities.

Keep Going.

We know this may be pushing it, but why not keep going? Use our Web site to log on to Career Connections, the database of WU alumni who are willing to talk with you about your career search. Or, start talking with your friends and parents’ friends about your interests to see if they know of someone who can help you. We know it freaks you out, but once you give it a whirl, it gets much easier. And, you can always ask us for help.
