THE SCHOOL OF LAW

On Friday, April 15, the Law School held its annual Lawyers' Day celebration. The activities began with an address delivered by Mr. Frank Y. Gladney of the St. Louis Bar. Following, the Class of 1932 unveiled its patron saint in the Lawyers' Archway. At noon canes were presented to the members of the senior class on the main quadrangle, following which was a luncheon. A theatre party took place in the afternoon. In the evening a Law School banquet was held at which members of the faculty delivered short speeches. The day's program was concluded with a dance chaperoned by the faculty members and prominent alumni.
