FOREWORD

I am happy to report that Washington University's Contemporary German Literature Collection continues to grow at a substantial rate. The University Libraries, in collaboration with the Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures, acquired 717 volumes published in 2019. Many of these were purchased through the Lützel Contemporary German Literature Collection Fund established in 2017. These acquisitions include novels, poetry, short story collections, graphic novels, essays, autobiographical works, and literary and cultural periodicals from publishers in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland.

The Contemporary German Literature Collection, the largest of its kind in North America, serves as the research arm of the Max Kade Center for Contemporary German Literature, which was founded in 1984 at Washington University in St. Louis by Paul Michael Lützel, Rosa May Distinguished University Professor in the Humanities. This distinctive collection is housed in the John M. Olin Library on level B in the call number range PT2660-PT2728. Collection materials are made available to scholars at other universities via interlibrary loan. In addition, the Collection can be utilized in person, though, as of October 2020, this is currently restricted to current Washington University faculty, staff, and students due to the global pandemic.

Each year, Washington University's Germanic Languages and Literatures Department, in cooperation with the University Libraries, compiles a bibliography of items published the previous year. This 33rd issue of the Bibliography includes entries for all 717 volumes and is organized by author or editor with subject and genre descriptors as well as local call numbers. Additional information, including links to book reviews, can be found in the Libraries' Catalog (<http://catalog.wustl.edu>). Current and past issues of the bibliography are available at https://openscholarship.wustl.edu/maxkade_biblio/

I hope you find this bibliography helpful. Additional information about the Collection can be found at <http://libguides.wustl.edu/contemporarygermanliteraturecollection> and at the web page for the Max Kade Center for Contemporary German Literature (<https://german.wustl.edu/max-kade-center>). Please don't hesitate to contact me with questions or suggestions about the Bibliography or the Collection.
