EDITORIAL NOTES

THE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY LAW QUARTERLY

The student section, as well as the leading article section of this issue of the Quarterly is devoted to problems of state constitutional law. It might also be noted that bibliographies will be found at the end of each of the leading articles. These bibliographies contain suggestions by the authors of additional references in the particular field.

THE SCHOOL OF LAW

The law school program is being set up for the duration of the war on a year-around basis. Students who enter the school in February, June, or September, may by continuous attendance graduate in two calendar years from time of entrance. The summer of 1942 is to be divided into two sessions. In the first session, from June 15 to July 23, the following courses will be offered: Contracts I, Property I, Partnership, Federal Jurisdiction and Procedure, and Municipal Corporations. Contracts II, Property II, Quasi-contracts, Legislation, and Damages will be offered in the second session, which will last from July 27 to September 3.
